

Austin/San Antonio Television Media Meetings

During the week of December 7th, the Austin-San Antonio National Weather Service office met with both Austin and San Antonio television Meteorologists to discuss a wide variety of subjects. Topics included recent changes to the website, NOAA weather radio, upcoming severe weather training events, and upgrades to our National Weather Service Doppler Radar. The meetings led to timely discussion and feedback from this group of National Weather Service partners. This feedback will allow the National Weather Service to better our products and services to all partners including the general public. Thank you for those in attendance and for making the meetings a great success.
